IN MEMORY OF THE DEAD

Sandusky, O., June 8.—A monument to the memory of Confederate officers and soldiers buried on Johnson's Island, Sandusky Bay, Lake Erie, was dedicated today. The monument to erect the statue originated with the Robert Patton chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, of Cincinnati, O. The chapter purchased the cemetery in 1908 when it was found that the spot around which so many historic memories clustered, was being neglected and practically abandoned. Its only visitors were the veterans of a Grand Army post who every Decoration Day held memorial services for their former foes.

Prior to this, however, one effort had been made to save the cemetery from neglect into which it had fallen. In 1889 a party of editors and officials of the state of Georgia visited the island. They saw only broken fences and weed-grown mounds. Stirred by the sight they returned home and raised a fund which provided headstones of Georgia marble for each of the 206 graves. It was then found that fifty-four of them must remain nameless, for the memory of the buried had vanished.

Lieutenant Colonel William Hoffman, Federal commissary general of prisoners, leased forty acres of land on Johnson's Island in the fall of 1861 from L. B. Johnson. The intention was to use this land solely for the accommodation of Confederate officers and although during the subsequent years of the war small bod-

Confederate soldier in uniform. The right hand clutches a musket, the stock of which rests on the ground. The left hand is raised to the forehead, shading the eyes and the figure seems to be peering into the far distance, toward the Southland.

The statue rests on a pedestal constructed of South Carolina marble, upon which is engraved in large letters, "Erected by the Robert Patton Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, of Cincinnati, O., in memory of the Southern soldiers who died in the federal prison on this island during the war between the states. Dead but sceptered sovereigns who rule us from the dust."

On the base is this inscription, "The stone upon this was inscribed and placed by the Grand Lodge of Mississippi in remembrance of the Masons who sleep here." On the ends of the base stone are the words, "Confederate Soldiers. They were Masons."

TWO FIRES LAST NIGHT

BOTH STARTED MALICIOUSLY.

Two fire alarms were sounded last night, one at 10:05 and the other immediately after the department had returned from the first and put up the horses. The first was at the grocery store of W. R. Lilly, at the corner of Sixth and Main. The blaze was in the feeding stalls at the rear of the store, where it had been intentionally started in three different places by piling loose hay against the fence and setting the hay afire. The department soon had the trouble over without damage to property by the use of chemical extinguishers. These stalls were set afire once before, on one of the nights that the old laundry ruins were set afire.

The second fire was at the home of Frank Burgeon, east of the railroad tracks between Sixth and Seventh streets. Beyond doubt some person had set fire to his hay stack, which was piled against the barn. The fire was put out with buckets and water.
